

Creating healthier futures for children and women

A global destination for expert pediatric and women's health care, Texas Children's Hospital offers the highest-quality inpatient, emergency, rehabilitative and subspecialty services, as well as outpatient clinical care. Our robust network also includes primary care practices and specialty care centers throughout Houston and Austin.

Texas Children's Hospital is excited to expand our mission to create a healthier future for the children and women of Texas. We are committed to bringing our care to the families of Central Texas, the most rapidly growing area of the state. That's why we're growing in Austin with primary care, urgent care, and specialty care locations open right now, and a new $485 million top-tier children and women's hospital to open in Spring 2024.
